

Dietician

As a Dietician, you will have to do more than just advise people on how to beat the bulge. By using scientific methods and understanding the human body you will be able to properly inform patients how to get the maximum benefit from what they eat.